KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Mrs. Lorraine Lopez-Janove

Lorraine Lopez-Janove has always sought to foster inclusive excellence in education.

As chief diversity and inclusion officer at SUNY Cortland since Aug. 10, Lopez-Janove currently leads and supports SUNY Cortland's efforts to promote a more welcoming community for everyone throughout the institution.

Before joining the university, Lopez-Janove worked since 2017 to raise the bar for diversity and inclusion jointly for the SUNY Orange, SUNY Sullivan and SUNY Ulster community college campuses.

Prior to that, Lopez-Janove served as executive director of the Human Rights Commission of Sullivan County and also has experience as an educator and administrator through Orange-Ulster BOCES.

As a senior project associate with the Technical Assistance Center on Disproportionality at New York University from 2010 to 2016, her responsibilities included working with a portfolio of more than 60 New York state schools cited by the New York State Education Department for disproportionality of Black and Brown students in special education or suspension. Among other initiatives, she oversaw the process in leadership development whereby New York school administrators and teachers arrived at the root cause of disproportionality by working with school data and reviewing policies, practices and beliefs.

Lopez-Janove holds certifications in affirmative action, Title IX and conflict resolution and brings a broad array of rich experiences related to equity, diversity and inclusion. She attended Marist College in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., where she earned both a B.A. in social work and a master's in public administration.
